EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING

The Actors Fund Work Program (AWP)

Work in performing arts and entertainment is episodic and frequently doesn't pay the bills. This unique program helps people identify and find fulfilling secondary work that complements a performing arts or entertainment career. For some, the program also helps plan for a career transition.

Services include:

CAREER COUNSELING

Performing arts and entertainment professionals have skills and experience that are valued in other industries. Our career counselors help identify those transferable skills. Activities focus on career options, informational seminars, networking and resume writing.

JOB TRAINING

The Fund's training programs are designed to give people a competitive edge in such fields as office administration, arts-in-education and teaching English to speakers of other languages.

JOB DEVELOPMENT

Our job developers work closely with employers in New York and Los Angeles to design job opportunities that recognize our members' abilities and interests. Job search and interview workshops are offered weekly along with a job bulletin. Our staff will work on creating successful job submissions.
