

Leading the End-of-Life Choice Movement for Thirty Years.
compassion & choices
 Support. Educate. Advocate. Choice & Care at the End of Life.

THE PLAYERS

RDM Financial Group, Inc.

Compassion & Choices, under the patronage of Sid and Eve Mayer, Peter J. and Joan Strauss, Ron D. Weiner, CFP, and The Players, invite you to a complimentary reception and screening of Peter Richardson's inspirational award-winning documentary film

How to Die in Oregon

This independent film follows the lives of several terminally ill patients as they contemplate their end-of-life choices made possible by Oregon's Death with Dignity Act and follows the growing end-of-life choice national movement - lead by Compassion & Choices.

Don't miss this opportunity to get an inside look at the open dialogue between family, patient and physician that happens as a result of the transparency created by affirmative aid-in-dying policies like Oregon's Death with Dignity Act.

Thursday, November 17th, 2011

6:00 – 9:00 PM

The Players

16 Gramercy Park South

(East 20th between Park Avenue South & Irving Place)

New York, New York

Immediately following the film participate in an informative question & answer panel.

Moderator: Dick Cavett

Panelists:

Sue D. Porter, MSB, Film participant and Compassion & Choices Board Member

David Muller, MD, Dean of Medical Education, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine

David Leven, JD, Executive Director of Compassion & Choices New York

*With posthumous video messages from Helen Hayes

and her son, actor James Gordon MacArthur.

Space is limited. Please make your reservation by November 8th, 2011.

Learn more and register online: CompassionAndChoices.org/Players

Questions? Contact Susan Prior at 800.247.7421 Ext. 2106